SESSION NOTES.

Ottawa, April 27, '08.

The debate on the new franchise act is dragging along at greater length than was at one time anticipated. While it is admitted that the old franchise act has to go, on account of its unworkableness and cost, the opposition seem to think that because their opponents fought the present franchise act bitterly when it was being passed they are bound to fight the new act, if not as bitterly, at least as bitterly as they can. Neither the old nor the new act affect the Territories which was given a franchise act of its own by the late administration and is to retain it with some slight improvements under the present rule. The purpose of the new act is to adopt the voters' lists of the several provinces used in provincial elections for the purposes of federal elections. As the provincial lists are founded on those of the several municipalities the material for the revision of which is furnished by the yearly municipal assessments, it would seem an easy way of securing an annually revised voters' list at practically no cost to the country; as against the present system under which each revision would cost over a million dollars, and consequently revisions are made infrequently and elections are often held on lists several years old. An election taking place to-day would be on lists four years old. The principle of substituting something else for the old system was agreed to by the house after a comparatively short and mild debate. Sir Charles Tupper threw out a hint in favor of manhood suffrage, but it was not given definite form. The trouble has come when it has to be decided what the substitute for the several provisions of the present act is to be. The several provincial governments are in the hands of friends of the present Dominion government and the conservatives see great danger of the provinces mending their franchise acts from time to time to their injury, and a great deal of time has been taken up in recounting the iniquities of these several provincial election acts. It does not appear to strike the members of the opposition that a liberal Dominion government would be just as apt to use their control of the franchise act if they exercised it to their party's advantage as would a provincial liberal government. Nor do they suggest in what way the Dominion parliament can directly control the franchise without going to vast expense. Just in proportion as expense is avoided provincial law must be adopted.

A very long debate occurred on the point if Indians in Ontario who were granted the franchise by the Dominion act would be deprived of it by reverting to the provincial law. It is only fair to say that the point was raised by Mr. Heyd, liberal M.P., for Brant, and was supported by Mr. Lister, liberal, M.P., for Lampton, in whose constituencies are a number of Indians who are at present voters. They asked that these Indians be still allowed the franchise. The opposition rung the changes interminably on the outrage committed by the disfranchisement of these Indians, as though the franchise bill had been aimed directly at them. Next came the Dominion government officials who are disfranchised under the Nova Scotia law. Again there was a howl of grief at this invasion of the rights of the citizen. It is possible that the government will introduce amendments so that the Nova Scotia Indians and the Nova Scotia officials can vote, but that did not prevent inimitable talk on the various phases of the subject with a view of making capital against the government. It is hard to see, however, where capital can be made on these points. It is a fair proposition that a franchise act good enough for the provinces of the Dominion is good enough for the Dominion itself, and it is also fair that the Dominion in accepting the several provincial franchise acts should accept them as they are, refusing to take any responsibility as to whether they can be improved or not. If they once begin to tinker with the provincial laws it will be hard to stop short of a new Dominion franchise with its attendant expense. Besides, there are a great many people who hold that it is not good either for the state or for the individuals concerned that men drawing money from the government should be allowed the privilege of helping to govern that government by voting at elections. There are limitations to the exercise of all rights, limitations from reasons of expediency as well as other reasons, and it seems not unreasonable that the right to exercise the function of government by voting should be limited to those who are not directly beneficiaries from the revenue to be raised by the government from the people at large.

Just now a stick occurs on a suggestion that there shall be appeals as to the fairness of the provisional lists, to the courts. This is provided for in some of the provinces and not in others. Possibly it is desirable, but again comes in the question as to whether the Dominion is meddling with the provisional acts when adopting them. Not that they cannot do so, but whether it is good policy to do so or not. It would seem to be a clearer course to say: We take the provincial franchise and decline to assume any responsibility regarding it. What is good enough for the provinces is good enough for the Dominion. If any provincial law is unjust let the electors of that province see that it is amended.

The estimates have not been touched yet and the plebiscite bill has only been introduced. No debate has yet taken place on the proposal to charge postage on newspapers. It is not thought that much time will be spent on the plebiscite bill, as both parties will agree to its passage. The estimates may or may not be rushed through. But there will likely be a warm discussion on the question of newspaper postage as the opposition will no doubt endeavor to make capital against the minority with the newspapers. At the same time a number of leading conservative as well as liberal papers support the proposition as being only fair to the general public. They say that those who wish to read the papers should pay for their carriage through the mails; that the people who do not read them should not be compelled to pay for their carriage as they are now.

Last week the opposition put up a stiff fight against the reduction in the rate of interest on savings banks deposits to 2½ per cent. When the finance minister announced the reduction he said that the taxpayer had no right to pay more for money in the savings banks than he could get it for elsewhere, and Sir Richard Cartwright pointed out that money at call, as were the savings banks deposits, was not worth as much as money loaned for a definite and long period. By this reasoning it would appear that as compared with 2½ per cent., which Canada is paying on her last loan in England, 2½ per cent. would be a fair rate on savings bank deposits. Had the finance minister stopped there his case was certainly strong. But he did not. He put forward as an additional reason for reducing the rate of interest on savings bank deposits the desirability of cheapening money supplied by banks to borrowers, and argued that by reducing the rate of interest in the savings banks, the chartered banks would be enabled to borrow more cheaply and would therefore lend more cheaply. That the reduction in the rate paid on savings banks deposits will be followed by a reduction in the rate paid on deposits by chartered banks there is very little doubt, but that it will be followed by a corresponding reduction in the rate at which the banks will loan money there is very little hope. If it is not followed by a reduction in the rate at which money is lent it will simply mean that the banks have been enabled to add considerably to their profits without risk or cost to themselves; but at the cost of the saving classes. The government will save a quarter of a million a year and the banks will save several millions. If the proposition works out in this way the reduction in interest will take on the appearance of having been instigated by the banks for their own profit, and the government will be discredited to that extent. It is too soon to judge of results yet, but the government evidently feel that their position is not as strong as it was on this point, as they now propose to issue bonds in small amounts bearing three per cent., as offering people of small savings a ready means of safe investment at a fair interest. In this case there would be practically no charges of management as in the case of the savings banks.

Yesterday, Davis, M. P., for Saskatchewan, brought up the break down in the railway service to Prince Albert. The trains had been running irregularly all winter. No proper effort had been made to keep the line open. Now the bridge across the South Saskatchewan was broken and all traffic was suspended indefinitely. He had appealed to the C. P. R. authorities and had been informed that they did not own the road and could do nothing. He read from the act granting $80,000 a year subsidy to this road in which it was required that mails should be carried without delay, and asked that measures be taken by the government to hold the railway company to the conditions under which the subsidy was granted. He also went fully into the bargain under which the railway was constructed showing that the company pocketed a million dollars over and above the cost of the road. The minister of railways promised attention to the matter, but did not hold out much hope of being able to rectify the evil complained of.

EFFECTS OF THE WAR.

Montreal, April 30.—The war has already had a marked effect in advancing the prices of food stuffs. The prices of flour, sugar and molasses have advanced considerably and now Montreal bakers announce an advance of two cents on the four pound loaf of bread. The rise in bread is due to the advance in flour, which has gone up 9½ cents a barrel; sugar has advanced 1-8 of a cent per pound and molasses one to two cents. Rice has also advanced 25 cents per 100 pounds. As a result of the war the price of cordage here has advanced all round half a cent per pound. A brisk demand for freight space from the port of Montreal continues and it is stated that all the space in the vessels which will leave during the month of May, as well as a large portion of June and July space, has been taken by exporters. Liverpool space has been taken at 3s 3d; Glasgow at 3s 9d and London, Belfast and Avonmouth at 3s 9d.

THE WAR.

(SPECIAL TO THE BULLETIN.)

Washington, May 3.—No details have been received here yet regarding the extent of damage done to the United States fleet during Sunday's battle of Manila, but all advices received from Spanish sources, admit that the Spanish fleet was badly defeated. There is great rejoicing in Washington over the American victory.

London, May 3.—All the newspapers here comment on the United States victory. Their comments are to the effect that "another elegant discord has been introduced into the eastern scramble." Details of the battle of Manila have been received by the British colonial office. The engagement lasted two hours and resulted in the annihilation of the Spanish fleet. The United States warships withdrew to their magazine vessel. One American vessel, whose name is not mentioned, was disabled. It is reported that the Manila authorities refused to surrender and that the United States fleet is again bombarding the town. All cables out of Manila are cut.

Madrid, May 3.—Capt. Cardosa, of one of the Spanish cruisers engaged in the conflict, who was killed during the engagement, belonged to a Madrid family.

A Hong Kong despatch says that the bombardment of Manila is inevitable and that the inhabitants are fleeing into the interior. The operators of cable stations in the midst of the forts have fled to save their lives.

Key West, May 3.—It is considered possible that the United States fleet will attack Havana to-day. Commodore Dewey, according to a special despatch to Madrid, gave Captain General Augusti four hours to comply with the American ultimatum, which demanded the surrender of all warlike stores, including the entire stock of coal in charge of the government officials. The ultimatum asserted that no money levy would be made. A Manila despatch says that it is believed in Madrid that the Government has already cabled Capt-General Augusti to comply with the demand, no other course being open. If it proves true, grave events may follow when the knowledge of this compliance becomes public in Madrid.

The Madrid correspondent of the London Times in describing the engagement of Manila says the Olympia, Boston, Raleigh, Concord, Petrie and Monocacy entered the port under cover of darkness by smaller and safer channel. The forts in Centigitor island gave the alarm by firing on the intruders, but seem to have inflicted no serious damage. American squadron moved up into the bay and at 3 o'clock in the morning appeared before Cavite, where the Spanish fleet was lying under shelter of the forts. Admiral Montego, a few days before, went to Subic bay to look for the enemy, but learning that they were a vastly superior force, prudently returned and placed his vessels under the protection of the forts. This was his only chance of getting the enemy on something like equal footing. It did not, however, suffice. As soon as the Americans opened fire the Spanish replied vigorously and combat continued without interruption for four hours, during which the Don Antonio de Ulla was sunk, the Castilla Miranda set on fire, and the Reina Maria Christina Don Juan de Austria severely damaged. Other smaller craft were scattered by their crew to escape capture. The despatch concludes: "No Spanish warships surrendered and majority perished." The Spanish Commander was killed, while resisting to last moment. The Spanish loss is estimated at four hundred men killed including many natives. The American squadron was attacked furiously by the Spanish squadron and the forts of Cavite.

If report be true Commodore Dewey has begun bombardment and blockade of the city of Manila. If so it is unlikely he could spare a vessel from his fleet to carry news to Hong Kong.

Key West, May 4.—Commander Cervera, of the cruiser Montgomery, gave permission to the British cruiser Talbot to pass through the blockade and enter the ports of Havana, as bombardment is impending. It is believed the Talbot will bring away any British subjects who desire to leave Havana.

New York, May 4.—A cable from London to the Maritime exchange reports that the Pelayo and Alfonso XIII have just arrived at Cadiz. If true, an immediate attack upon Havana and the invasion of Cuba is expected.

The Madrid government has decided to unite its fleet in Cuban waters and will make an attempt to crush the American fleet. The Pelayo and several other powerful warships are almost ready to sail from Cadiz. The government is officially advised that Commodore Dewey cut the Manila cables.

London, May 4.—The stock exchanges here interpret the news from various points as meaning that the war will be of short duration. Consols show an improvement, and money is plentiful.

A New York special, to the Tribune, from Madrid says that Premier Sagasta asserts that Spain will fight to the bitter end. A martial law has been proclaimed, suppressing all news from the navy. The second Spanish fleet is nearly ready to leave Cadiz for the scene of war.

A London cable to-day states: Special reports from the Philippines are indefinite, but there is good reason to believe that Commodore Dewey has already taken Manila, or is in a position to do so at once.

New York, May 4.—Early morning extras devote much attention to the breakup of the American Cuban blockade fleet. It is believed that several of the most powerful ships of the fleet, under lead of the New York, sailed for Porto Rico, or further south, to reinforce or edge on the attack which is expected from the westward bound Spanish fleet.

Washington, May 4.—Secretary Long received no despatch from Commodore Dewey. It is believed he started despatch boat for Hong Kong on Sunday morning, and the American side of the fight is momentarily expected.

A special to the New York Journal says that Madrid is in a state of seige and it looks very much as if a revolution was pending. The present Ministry fears Capt-General Weyler more than it does the Americans.

A mysterious cannonading was heard off the coast of New Foundland.

To whom it may concern:

Speaking of A. K. Potter, of Edmonton, as a practical miner, I have only to speak of personal experience. The washing apparatus which he designed and manufactured for me last season, 1897, gave entire satisfaction. It was capable of most thoroughly washing, separating and saving the gold and black sand of 1 cubic yard gravel per minute. It was a most perfect separator, separating stones from pay dirt first, then the gold, and lastly the black sand.

LOCAL.

FRANKIE is raging to the southeast of town, apparently about twenty miles away.

A CONSIGNMENT of fur brought in last week by a trader was put up for competition and purchased by the Hudson Bay Co. for $238.68.

D. CADZOW, who has been trading and trapping during the winter on the Peace river near its mouth, returned to town last week with his fur catch.

A. H. McCOMB, manager of the Hudson Hot Springs hotel, and formerly of Edmonton, is about to undertake the management of a big hotel at Dawson City and will leave for the north next week. Previous to his departure he was presented with a handsome souvenir of his stay at the Springs, by a large number of friends.

Geo. B. McLAUGHLIN with a party of seven from New York and Montana, are outfitting here preparatory to starting overland for the gold fields. They go by pack-train of sixty horses and their proposed destination is the Stewart river. There are two U.S. government packers in the party. Their sixty head of horses arrived yesterday, having been driven overland to Macleod and shipped by rail from there.

CONCERT AT THE LANDING.

A subscription and concert were organized here on Tuesday, April 26th, to present Mr. Tacitus Struthers with a purse. Mr. Struthers, who is an old resident in the Northwest and is engaged in trapping and hunting, has been for sometime past disabled by a serious affection of the throat and his old and newly made friends at the Landing were therefore desirous of enabling him to procure medical help. The result of the canvass and concert was a purse of $100.

By the kind permission of Mr. Cinnamon, the concert was held on a cleared space of ground to the east of his residence, adjacent to main street. To secure accommodation and a good platform for the performers he generously pulled down the east end of his house and placed the room thus opened out at their disposal. The programme was as follows: Mr. Hofmann, zither, waltz; G. Hestor, song, "The Woodpecker"; Mr. Carmuse, cornet, "Robin Adair"; and "Good-bye Sweetheart"; Mrs. Dunn and Miss Lilje, song, "The Blind Girl"; Mr. Stephens, banjo, march; Miss Young, song, "Rory Darlin'; Dr. Buck and Mr. Kelly, vocal duet, "Larboard Watch; Miss Struthers, violin; Mr. Kelly, song, "The Bohemian Girl"; T. S. Cowan, recitation, "The fifty pound club"; Mr. Hofmann, zither, "The Klondike march"; H. N. Gauthier, mandolin. God Save the Queen, cornet accompaniment by Mr. Carmuse.

HOSPITAL MANAGEMENT.

Edmonton, May 4th, '98.
EDITOR BULLETIN.

DEAR SIR: We, the undersigned, having been recently discharged from the general ward of the Edmonton General Hospital, deem it our duty, after the kind treatment we have received there, to repudiate any statement which has been made detrimental to the Rev'd Sisters who have charge of the institution or to its management in any way. Some of us are strangers and far from our homes; we appreciate the kindness shown to us and the having of a place of this nature to go to in time of sickness, and we think the people of Edmonton and vicinity should not only feel proud of the institution, but should give it every assistance possible. We were well able to pay the cost of a private ward if we chose to occupy one, but we were perfectly well satisfied with our treatment in the general ward in every way. Anyone who has found fault with the character of the food furnished must have done so through ignorance alone; in all probability he had never had as good.

Yours truly,

A. L. Taylor,
W. H. Cooper,
N. D. Jackson,
Lacy Gully,
Kenneth McLeod,
Simon Cloutier,
Geo. F. B. James.

THE S. S. PARIS ARRIVES.

New York, April 30.—The American line steamer Paris arrived this morning from Southampton after a rough winter passage of seven days, seventeen hours and forty-five minutes. She has nine saloon, forty-two second cabin and ninety steerage passengers. After clearing land Capt. Watkins shaped his course thirty miles north of the usual course taken on previous trips. At night every light on board the Paris was extinguished and the dead lights were covered. A strict watch was maintained to detect the approach of vessels. It is expected the Paris will be received by the naval authorities to-morrow morning when her name will be changed to the "Yale," The Paris sighted no Spanish war vessels.

IMPERIAL TROOPS FOR CANADA.

The second battalion of the Leinster regiment, which leaves Halifax on May 5 for Jamaica, will remain there for four months and then return to Halifax. The first battalion, which relieves the second battalion, will arrive on May 4 from Dublin. On the return of the second battalion from Jamaica the first battalion goes to Toronto, where a depot and recruiting station will be established. A regiment which has been ordered from England to proceed to Vancouver will come via Halifax, arrangements having been made with the Canadian Pacific.

BEAVER LAKE EAST.

Seeding is in full swing. A large area is being sown. Game is fairly abundant, but hard to get.
While Messrs. Duncan A. McCallum and Jimmy Whitford were out hunting horses lately, in the vicinity of Birch Creek, they ran across something in the game line that they hardly expected to see, viz. a den of bears. There were four in all, a large mother bear and her three cubs.
Duncan mounted guard while Jimmy went post-haste for a ride. Upon his return the whole four were killed.
As to the variety there is a difference of opinion, but they were probably black bears. About two months ago Mrs. Fane received the sad intelligence of the death of her father Mr. Duff, of Lethbridge; now Mr. and Mrs. Deby, are mourning the loss of their eldest son, Lieut. Deby, of the Belgian army, who died of fever in the Congo Free State, after a brief illness.
The heartfelt sympathy of the community is with them in their bereavement.

Spring prairie fires are usually harmless in their effects, the bluffs being full of snow. Last week, however, several of our settlers suffered losses, more or less heavy. Through one Mr. Deby lost, over 500 bushels; Geo. Smith lost horses, stables and seed grain, and A. R. Moody a quantity of hay.

Mr. Guy, late of Belmont, preached for the first time
here in the new Presbyterian church on the 24th inst. With a few exceptions, all those asked to help in erecting the church heartily did so.
It is now completed, and is a neat edifice. Regular fortnightly services will be held by Mr. Guy during the summer.

I chronicle with great pleasure the arrival of a new settler in the person of Mr. Donald McAllister, late of Kansas. Mr.
McAllister and family are living for the present on the R. E. Steele farm, which they have rented from Messrs.
Beck & Emery. April 28, '98.

LACOMBE LINKS.

Rev. Mr. Meichener, of Banff, was here last week with the intention of locating after conference. He is in very delicate health and thinks two or three years as a farmer will recuperate him.

Vernon Mott
has retired from the Victoria hotel and is at present living in Mr. Vanal-stine's house. The owner of this hotel, a non-resident, will sell it on first of July when it will again be at the service of the public. For the present there are two first class boarding houses in town which answer the purpose.

E. J. Ravey and wife took a trip to Red Deer last week.

Dr. Gilmore, our new veterinary surgeon, is getting lots of work and is very much pleased with his present location.

Revs. Barber and White, Presbyterians, of Red Deer and Lacombe, respectively, exchanged pulpits on Sunday.

Quite an extensive prairie fire took place here a few days ago. All the available men in town were called on to perform their duty. Fortunately no damage was done. Measles is quite prevalent among the children.

Mr. Burdick sold his farm to Mr. Whitesell, South Dakota. Mr.
Burdick expects to start a new furniture store here during the coming summer.

Mr. O'Neill, of Calgary, visited the town last week in the interests of the London Life Insurance Co. The primary school opened on May 2nd under very favorable auspices. Miss Morpheo, of Olds, Teacher. Some of the leading sports are training their horses preparatory to the annual races in July.

The foot ball club had their annual meeting in Howell's hall on May 30th. Dr. Sharpe was re-elected president; H. McCully, vice-president;
F. Ching, sec-treasurer; J. Gourley, captain of the team. Steps were taken to organize a boys club under the auspices of the seniors. Master True, McCully and Leonard Beattie were appointed a committee to do the business. The foot ball team have presented Mrs. W. Gray with a handsome life-size portrait of her late husband as a token of their sympathy and brotherly kindness. Mrs. Mc-Cully performed the work.
May 2nd, '98.

VEGREVILLE.

The weather is cold yet for the time of year. The blizzard that struck us on the 23rd inst. was the worst of the season.

Mr. and Mrs.
Joseph Fould have just returned from visiting friends and relatives about St. Albert and Fort Saskatchewan.

Ed. Dennis and two sons are at the south end of Beaver lake yet, running their threshing mill and crusher.

Our P. M. is all smiles these times. He and his wife are the happy parents of a fine little baby-girl, which has come to stay with them. Mr. and Mrs. Tetro are also also rejoicing over the arrival of a fine baby-girl.

Two weeks ago a two-year old son of Mr. and Mrs.
Tetro's fell backward through a trap-door into the cellar and broke his right arm close to and a little above the elbow. Being too far away to get a doctor in time they called on Mrs. Dennis, who has had some experience with broken bones, and they got it fixed in good shape so that he is doing well so far. April 28.

IMMIGRATION NOTES.

Thirty German families from South Dakota and three delegates from the Mennonites in that state, left Winnipeg on Monday to take up land near Rosthern.

The chief agent in Wales for the Dominion government notified the Winnipeg immigration offices that a large party of Welsh settlers, men and women, will sail early in June for Canada.

On Thursday two trains arrived in Winnipeg from the east, having on board 950 natives from South Austria, who intend to take up land in the Territories.

The arrivals in the province for April will be nearly 5,000 persons, judging from the reports already received at the hall. So far over 3,000 have been registered and 1,000 are expected in on Thursday.
